

Virtual work is different

You already know that distance working is a whole new world. You probably have discovered that the shift away from the office has some serious side effects:

- Isolation
- Productivity drop
- Conflict
- Employee disengagement
- Overscheduling
- Communication issues
- Performance evaluation
- Team disconnection

There is a solution: The Distance Leader Academy!

With the right training and tools, your team can thrive in a distance work environment. Through a practical, research-driven, and actionable approach, your team can develop a new rhythm for work that prevents employee isolation, leads to better communication, and drives productivity.

With hybrid online-webinar courses, your leaders and teams can learn quickly (online components are only an hour) and complete the assignments at their own paces. With an add-on webinar option, you can strengthen new practices in live, engaging, classes.

Our courses use the Distance Work Connector™ methodology to speed up the office-to-remote workforce transition. By incorporating the most powerful research foundations with real-world experiences and examples, your teams will learn skills and strategies for sustainable success.

It's time to go from struggling to thriving.
